Word Generation - Unit 1.09

Focus Words

Weekly Passage

Parents and their teenage children have always fought about the way young people dress. Some schools are taking on the battle by making rules about what students may wear. Many school officials want to reduce skin exposure and ban t-shirts with offensive language. They argue that this type of clothing can be distracting to other students. Some schools want to make even greater adjustments to their dress codes by requiring school uniforms. Many parents are in favor of this transition to stricter dress code policies. They think requiring uniforms reduces the pressure students feel to look like their peers. Some parents also believe that uniforms contribute to a more structured classroom environment and help students focus on their schoolwork instead of worrying about how they look.

Some teenagers don't want the dress code to be modified because they like to express themselves through their clothing choices. They think it's not the school's business to monitor what they wear. Other students who have been teased and criticized for wearing the "wrong thing" think stricter dress codes are a good idea.

What's your opinion? Should your school have a stricter dress code? How could a dress code have an impact on a school's culture?

Unit 1.09

School dress codes: Not strict enough? Problem of the Week

In the early 1990s, Long Beach Unified School District in California was in trouble. Students in its schools were violent. District-wide test scores were low. School officials thought about different ways to modify the schools. They wondered what kind of adjustments would work best to fix their district. In 1994 they began a transition to school uniforms. Test scores improved. Violence decreased. Within a few years, school crime had dropped by 80%.

The uniform policy at Long Beach Unified got a lot of media exposure. President Bill Clinton praised school uniforms in his 1996 State of the Union Address. Groups that monitor education also took notice. The Broad Foundation, for example, awarded the school $2.14 million in prizes.

Option 1: In Long Beach, school crime fell by 80%. Which of the following means the same thing?

- A) School crime fell by four-fifths.
- B) School crime fell by three-quarters.
- C) School crime fell by two-thirds.
- D) School crime fell by half.

Option 2: Each year, the average American school spends approximately $10,000 per student. How many students could the Broad Foundation's $2.14 million prize fund for one year? (Hint: to solve this problem quickly, use exponents.)

Math Discussion Question: The media exposure of school uniforms in Long Beach sparked a debate. Some researchers pointed out that requiring uniforms was not the only adjustment made by the district. The uniforms were just one part of a larger transition. When the district modified the dress code, it also began to improve school security and closely monitor school attendance, among other changes. Did the uniforms fix the schools? How could we find out?

School dress codes: Not strict enough? Debating the Issue

I. Get ready...

Pick one of these positions (or create your own).

A Schools should have rules against clothing that exposes too much skin or contains offensive language. This type of clothing is distracting to students and teachers and can be harmful to student learning.

B Schools should require students to wear uniforms so that kids will not feel pressure to buy expensive clothes in order to look like their peers. Uniforms would keep kids from being teased and criticized for wearing the “wrong thing.”

C Schools should require students to wear uniforms because this will create a more structured classroom environment. Students who are dressed well will behave better, and this will allow everyone to focus on school work.

D Schools should not monitor what students wear because students should be free to express themselves through their clothing. Choosing their own clothing lets students be individuals.

GO!

Be a strong participant by using phrases like these.

In my experience . . .

that's similar to what I think too...

What makes you think that?

When I re-read the text, it reminded me...

2. Get set...

Be ready to provide evidence to back up your position during your class discussion or debate. Jot down a few quick notes:

School dress codes: Not strict enough? Science Activity

Jacob walks into class wearing a T-shirt with a logo for Marlboro cigarettes.

“Your shirt makes me think we should modify the dress code,” says Professor Kahn. “We monitor skin exposure, but what about exposure to dangerous advertising?”

“I disagree,” says Jacob. “Making adjustments to the dress code is a waste of time. I hate deciding what to wear! We should just have uniforms.”

“That’s a good idea,” says Anaya. “When kids wear uniforms, their test scores go up.”

Is Anaya right? Professor Kahn investigates.

Question:

Do school uniforms improve students’ grades?

Hypothesis:

Students' grades will improve after their school makes a transition to requiring uniforms.

Materials:

- ▶ 100 students
- ▶ Report Cards

Procedure:

- 1. Find 100 students in a school without uniforms.
- 2. Record and average their grades.
- 3. Start requiring uniforms at that school.
- 4. After all students are wearing uniforms, wait one year.
- 5. Record and average the grades from the same 100 students.

Data:

	Before Uniforms	After Uniforms
Average Grade	C+ (78.3)	C+ (78.2)

Conclusion:

Is the hypothesis supported or not by the data?

What evidence supports your conclusion?

How would you make this a better experiment?
